Power Solitaire VR* now live, brings unique social gameplay to Oculus Rift and HTC Vive

A VR game the whole family already knows how to play

New Hampshire, USA - June 8, 2017 - Power Solitaire VR is a groundbreaking version of the Klondike solitaire card game that introduces unique game play only possible in Virtual Reality. Play alone, against an intelligent robot, or live multiplayer with others online. It's a social VR game the whole family already knows how to play.

Today, Power Solitaire VR goes live for Oculus Rift and HTC Vive virtual reality devices, on both the Steam and Oculus Store, for only USD $4.99.

Not your mother's solitaire! Power Solitaire VR is Klondike solitaire but with a twist! In its unique online social multiplayer mode (with live voice chat) place your cards onto anyone's piles, if you can beat them to it. The action escalates quickly, becoming fast and competitive. Of course, you can also play regular relaxing solitaire alone.

“Our playtesting has shown the game carries a wide demographic appeal. Maybe not every 14 or 23 year old male with a VR rig plays solitaire, but their parents probably do,” says Jonathan Linowes, producer and lead designer of the game. “It’s a great way to share a fun game and enthusiasm for immersive VR with friends and family, even if they don’t like first-person shooters.”

Features include,

- Play Klondike solitaire like real-life in a virtual room
- Competitive Power Solitaire mode against up to 3 other players and/or a robot
- Multiplayer includes voice chat and real time virtual avatar interactions
- Easily configure play area for personal size and comfort
- Fun VR surprises and interactive playfulness throughout!
- Requires a virtual reality headset and hand controllers
- This is a seated (or standing) VR experience

Reviews

"Reminds me a lot of I Expect You To Die, especially the visuals and interactivity"

~ Matt Schoen, Unity Labs

"Great and relaxing way to play this classic card game :)"

~ Nabuko San, YouTube Press Start to Begin

"Amazing! Wonderful design and it works perfect!"
